GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

General Terms and Conditions heise jobs

of Heise Medien GmbH & Co KG, Karl-Wiechert-Allee 10, 30625 Hanover, Germany

- represented by the managing directors Mr Ansgar Heise and Mrs Beate Gerold -

These general terms and conditions govern the conclusion and processing of the contract of the contract between Heise Zeitschriften Verlag GmbH & Co KG (Heise Verlag) and the customer (client) in the area of the online job market as well as the rights and obligations of both parties.

I. Subject matter of the General Terms and Conditions

The subject of the General Terms and Conditions is the regulation of the contractual conditions for the contracts of Heise Verlag with advertising customers regarding the publication of job advertisements on the websites of Heise Verlag within the framework of the online job market and with customers regarding access to the database for job applications that are concluded online or by other means. The General Terms and Conditions apply in the version valid at the time the contract is concluded.

The first part regulates the terms and conditions of Heise Verlag with regard to the publication of job adverts on heise jobs. The second part contains contractual provisions for access to the database for job advertisements operated by Heise Verlag. The third section contains common terms and conditions for both parts.

II Publication of adverts on heise jobs

§ 1 Conclusion of the advertising contract

1. an "advertising contract" within the meaning of the following General Terms and Conditions is the contract for the placement of one or more advertisements by a job advertiser or other interested parties (client) on the pages of the online job market on the Heise Verlag websites.
2. The contract is concluded when Heise Verlag confirms an order placed by the customer. The order can be placed by completing the form provided on the website or by other means, in particular by e-mail, fax or letter. Confirmation of the placement of the order shall be sent to the client by e-mail or by other means after receipt of the advertisement order following a check by Heise Verlag. The contract shall be deemed to have been concluded upon confirmation after verification or through immediate activation.
3. The information contained in the order confirmation by Heise Verlag, in particular regarding the start and duration of the placement of the advertisement, shall be deemed to have been agreed between the parties. If the details in the order confirmation do not correspond with the intention of the party placing the order, the latter shall immediately arrange for Heise Verlag to correct the details accordingly.

§ 2 Duty to provide information

The customer is obliged to provide truthful information when placing the order. If the user fails to provide this information or provides false data from the outset, in particular a false address, Heise Verlag may withdraw from the contract if a contract has been concluded.

§ 3 Reservation of right of refusal

1. Heise Verlag reserves the right to reject advertisement orders due to their content, origin or technical design. This applies in particular if the content of the job advertisement violates legal or official prohibitions or offends common decency, or if publication is unreasonable for Heise Verlag for other reasons.

2. In the event that the content or design of an advert already placed online violates legal or official prohibitions or offends common decency, Heise Verlag is entitled to remove this advert from the offer without delay. Heise Verlag will inform the client immediately of the removal of the advert and discuss further action with him.
3. If an advertisement is rejected before it is placed or if an advertisement that has already been placed is removed, the customer shall not be entitled to claim compensation from Heise Verlag if the advertisement violates statutory or official prohibitions or offends common decency, or if publication is unreasonable for Heise Verlag for other reasons. If the customer is responsible for this, Heise Verlag shall be entitled to appropriate compensation for expenses.

§ 4 Delivery of advertisements

1. There are various options available to the client for the provision of adverts for publication.
 - Data input via web form;
 - Sending the data by e-mail, letter, fax or other means;
 - Transmission of a digital template;
 - Provision on your own server when integrated into Heise Verlag frames.
2. The client is responsible for the complete delivery of the advertising material. This must take place in good time before the start of publication agreed in the order confirmation. Heise Verlag shall not be responsible for delays caused by the content of the advertising material provided by the client for publication, whether due to content or technical reasons.

§ 5 Creation of the advert by Heise Verlag

1. If expressly commissioned by the client, Heise Verlag will design and realise advertisements for the client in accordance with the client's specifications.
2. A corresponding fee shall be paid for the creation and design of advertisements by Heise Verlag. Unless otherwise agreed in writing between the parties, the amount of the fee shall be determined in accordance with the price list published online on the heise jobs website.
3. The copyright and utilisation rights to the advertisements created by Heise Verlag for the client shall remain with Heise Verlag and shall not be automatically transferred to the client, even after termination of the contract, unless this has been agreed separately in writing. This does not apply to those parts of the advertisements that are provided by the client.

§ 6 Infringement of third party rights

1. Heise Verlag is not obliged to check the text and image documents provided by the client or the technical design of the advertisement for impairment of the rights of third parties.
2. If trademarks or copyrighted material are used in the publication of the advertisement, authorisation for their use shall be deemed to have been granted by commissioning the advertisement. The client warrants that it is authorised to grant such permission.
3. The client expressly indemnifies Heise Verlag against any third-party claims arising from the form, content and design of the advertisements. This applies in particular to any infringements of copyright and trade mark rights. Excluded from this provision are those parts of the advertisement that are created by Heise Verlag.

§ 7 Publication of the advertisement

1. Heise Verlag will make the client's advert available to users online in the job market on the publisher's website at the agreed time and for the agreed duration of the placement.
2. The client must check the placed advertisement immediately after the first placement and immediately report any defects caused by Heise Verlag. If the client fails to give notice of defects, the placement of the advertisement shall be deemed to have been approved without defects.

§ 8 Modifications of the displays

1. At the request of the client, Heise Verlag will make changes to the client's job advertisement during the publication period, provided this is reasonable for us in terms of technology and content.
2. If the changes are only of a minor nature and require little effort on the part of Heise Verlag, they will be carried out free of charge. Significant changes are subject to payment and will be agreed with the client by Heise Verlag.
3. If the client hosts the advert on its own servers and the offer is integrated into that of Heise Verlag via frames, the client shall be entitled to make modifications at any time.
4. Excluded are such changes that alter the content of an advert in such a way that, in the event of the change, a new job would be advertised instead of the original one. If such modifications are made without the consent of Heise Verlag, the advertisement shall be deemed to have been placed again and shall result in a new obligation to pay remuneration in accordance with Heise Verlag's price details. Furthermore, Heise Verlag shall be entitled to terminate the contract without notice.

§ 9 Acceptance of the notification by third parties

1. Heise Verlag is not permitted to forward the advertisement in whole or in part to other online or offline media for publication without the express consent of the client.
2. Heise Verlag shall not be liable for any unauthorised inclusion of the advertisement or individual components of the advertisement in the offer of third parties, as such an inclusion cannot be completely excluded according to the current state of the art. Should Heise Verlag become aware of such cases, it will inform the client accordingly.

§ 10 Remuneration

1. A fee is payable to Heise Verlag for the placement and provision of the advertisement. The amount of the fee shall be based on the price list published online by Heise Verlag, unless agreed individually in writing between the parties. The price list published on the Internet at the time of receipt of the client's application shall apply.
2. The invoiced amounts are due immediately and payable without deduction, unless otherwise agreed. Payment shall be deemed to have been made upon receipt of payment in Heise Verlag's account.
3. The client shall only be entitled to a right of retention if and insofar as his counterclaim arises from the same contractual relationship. Offsetting declared by the customer is excluded unless the counterclaims have been legally established or recognised by Heise Verlag.

§ 11 Warranty

1. Heise Verlag guarantees the best possible reproduction of the advertisements in accordance with the usual technical standard. However, the client is aware that it is not possible to create a programme that is completely free of errors according to the state of the art.

2. In particular, there is no error in the presentation of the job advertisement if it is caused by the use of unsuitable presentation software and/or hardware, by disruption of the communication networks of other operators, by computer failure at an Internet access provider or at an online service or by incomplete and/or non-updated offers on proxy servers (store between) of commercial and non-commercial providers and online services.
3. If it is not possible to reproduce the advertisements for reasons for which Heise Verlag is responsible, the client shall be entitled to a faultless replacement advertisement, but only to the extent that the purpose and utilisation of the job advertisement has been impaired. If the placement of a replacement advertisement fails for any reason, the client is entitled, at his discretion, to withdraw from the contract (cancellation) or to demand a reduction in the advertisement price (reduction). However, a claim for damages by the client is excluded.

III Access to the job application database

§ 1 Conclusion of the contract

The contract is concluded when Heise Verlag confirms an order placed by the customer. The order can be placed by filling in the form provided on the website or by other means, in particular by e-mail, fax or letter. Confirmation of the order placement shall be sent to the client by e-mail or other means. With the confirmation or by activation the contract has been concluded.

§ 2 Database access

1. After successful registration and receipt of the password, the customer has the possibility to access the database in which the job applications stored at Heise jobs are stored.
2. The possibility of contacting jobseekers only exists after the contract has been concluded for the duration of the contract. If the customer has identified a candidate in the database who is of interest to him, the job seeker will first be informed of the customer's interest. If the jobseeker agrees to be contacted by the customer, the customer will receive the jobseeker's contact details from Heise Verlag and thus the opportunity to contact the jobseeker himself.

§ 3 Remuneration

1. A fee is payable to Heise Verlag for the opportunity to contact applicants from the database with jobsearches. Unless individually agreed between the parties, the amount of the fee shall be based on the price list published online by Heise Verlag. The price list published on the Internet at the time the client's application is received shall apply.
2. The invoiced amounts are due immediately and payable without deduction, unless otherwise agreed. Payment shall be deemed to have been made upon receipt of payment in Heise Verlag's account.
3. The client shall only be entitled to a right of retention if and insofar as his counterclaim arises from the same contractual relationship. Offsetting declared by the customer is excluded unless the counterclaims have been legally established or recognised by Heise Verlag.

§ 4 Duration of contract

The minimum term of a contract for access to the job search database is four weeks. Details of the contract term are set out in the price list published online.

§ 5 Warranty

1. Heise Verlag guarantees the best possible access to the database in accordance with the usual technical standard. However, the client is aware that it is not possible to create a programme that is completely free of errors according to the state of the art.
2. In particular, an error does not exist if it is caused by the use of unsuitable display software and/or hardware, by disruption of the communication networks of other operators, by computer failure at an Internet access provider or at an online service or by incomplete and/or non-updated offers on proxy servers (intermediate storage) of commercial and non-commercial providers and online services.
3. If access to the job search database is not possible due to causes for which Heise Verlag is responsible, the client shall be entitled to an extension of the access time corresponding to the duration of the outage, but only to the extent that the purpose and use of the database has been impaired. If access fails for any reason during the additional time granted, the client shall be entitled, at his discretion, to withdraw from the contract (cancellation) or to demand a reduction in the advertising price (reduction). A claim for damages by the client, however, is excluded.

IV. General regulations

§ 1 Liability

1. Heise Verlag shall be liable without limitation for intent and gross negligence on the part of its employees, legal representatives and executives. This also applies to expressly warranted characteristics. Heise Verlag shall only be liable for slight negligence if an essential contractual obligation for the achievement of the contractual objective and the fulfilment of the contractual purpose has been breached (cardinal obligation).
2. Insofar as cardinal obligations in the aforementioned sense are negligently violated, liability is limited to the damage typical for the contract. Excluded in particular is any liability that could arise in any way from an employment relationship that has not been concluded or has been concluded incorrectly, as well as liability for content for which Heise Verlag is not responsible, such as content entered by job seekers.
3. In any case, liability towards entrepreneurs for gross and slight negligence, in the case of vicarious agents who are not legal representatives or executive employees, also for intent, is limited to the damage that is usually and typically foreseeable in such cases and cannot be controlled by the client.

§ 2 Data protection

1. Heise Verlag uses electronic data processing to collect and store only such data as is necessary to fulfil the order and process the contract without express consent. It uses all data provided only for the purposes to which the user has consented.
2. Compliance with the provisions of the Federal Data Protection Act is guaranteed. Furthermore, the privacy policy of Heise Verlag applies.

§ 3 Miscellaneous

1. In business transactions with merchants and legal entities under public law, the place of

- jurisdiction for all legal disputes arising from this contract shall be Hanover. In addition, Heise Verlag shall also be entitled to take legal action at the customer's place of business.
2. Should one of the provisions of the General Terms and Conditions be or become invalid, this shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions. The contracting parties then undertake to agree on an economically reasonable replacement provision that comes as close as possible to the invalid provision.
 3. German law shall apply to the exclusion of the UN Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods.
 4. The place of fulfilment is Hanover.
 5. Collateral agreements, amendments and supplements must be made in writing to be effective; this also applies in particular to the cancellation of this provision.
